

GOLOSA

LA ORQUESTA

Golosa la orquesta have 2 studio albums and one recorded live. 3 European tours, where they travels around 7 countries and performed in more than 70 concerts. In 2019 they were nominated for the Pulsar Awards (the main awards in Chilean music) with their album "Sobre la Ciudad", which has the collaboration of Argentine singer-songwriter Kevin Johansen. They have just released two singles "Voy bajando por la quebrá", featuring the prominent Chilean singer-songwriter Nano Stern and the guitarronero Luciano Fuentes; and "Montaña Arriba" in view of his next album, which will contain a strong tint of Latin American music. They have participated in Global Music Match, the largest international collaboration program in the world, which in its 2021 edition has 78 participating artists and bands, from 17 countries, all linked to world music and folk.

Golosa La Orquesta express in their performance and lyric content, a conscious and energetic message inspired by landscapes, nature and the social - environmental situation in Latinoamérica and specially Chile.

Rhythms inspired in the music of the Andes, like celebration or carnival mood among other folklore music from the Southern Cone of Latinoamérica merged with the power of rock and the liberty of Jazz are present in our music speech.

"We travel from our land to deliver the deepest sounds rooted in our mystical continent to the world. Rhythms with airs of huayno, celebration, carnival among others from the folklore of the southern cone of Latin America; fused with the power of rock and the freedom of jazz are present in our music.

On our world tours we collect sounds and textures from a variety of cultures that are embodied in various arrangements , and freely unite the world in a single music. " - GLO

A male musician with a beard and long hair is performing on a red keyboard instrument, possibly a synthesizer or digital piano. He is wearing a dark, sleeveless top with a colorful, fringed shawl draped over his shoulders. The stage is dimly lit, with a large, stylized graphic of a person's head in the background. The musician is looking down at his hands on the keys.
